NATIONAL DEFENSE AUTHORIZATION BILL

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, I would like to make a couple of comments about the progress of the legislation.

As it just happened, the majority leader has filed cloture on the bill, which means that if 30 hours are consumed, then we would be here on Friday. I certainly hope that is not the case. We are negotiating several contentious issues which, if those negotiations are successful, I would anticipate a number of votes tomorrow morning. If we are unable to, then it is going to stretch out into the afternoon or even to the next day for final passage.

I thank every Member who has been engaged in this process. Literally every Member has had an amendment or some involvement in this issue, and I think that is the healthiest thing about consideration of this bill, which, obviously I say with some bias, is the most important legislation that we take up, given that its responsibilities are to the men and women who are serving in our military in harm's way in a very dangerous world.

I thank my colleagues for their cooperation, and hopefully we can reach some agreements tonight and tomorrow to expedite the process and get final passage.

I note the presence of the Senator from Rhode Island, and I wonder if he has any comments.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, the Senator from Rhode Island.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I second Senator MCCAIN's comments about the cooperation and collaboration. We hope that tomorrow we can move forward on several amendments, and I want to join him in commending and thanking our colleagues for their help.

Thank you.

Mr. President, I believe we have both yielded the floor.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL 9:30 A.M. TOMORROW
